PRICING ONLY

Intentionally limited enrollment. Once the cohort is full, this pricing closes.

Your greatest expertise deserves more than scattered documents, workshop slides, or ideas that only exist in your head. This six-week experience helps you identify, organize, and steward the intellectual architecture behind your work — so you can communicate it with greater clarity, protect what makes it unique, and build a foundation for future growth without compromising its integrity.

WHO THIS IS FOR

Experienced consultants, facilitators, authors, education leaders, founders, and framework creators who have developed meaningful expertise through years of practice — and are ready to steward it with greater clarity, confidence, and intention.

Six weeks. One coherent body of work.

Working studio · not a performance

- Leave with your strategy

Small by Design

Participation is intentionally limited to create meaningful dialogue, individual attention, and space for deep reflection.

Confidential by Design

Ideas shared within the Lab remain within the Lab. Participants honor one another's intellectual work with respect and discretion.

Progress Over Perfection

This is a working studio, not a performance. You are not expected to arrive with everything figured out.

Human-Centered, AI-Supported

AI serves as a thinking partner throughout — helping you organize and extend your work while your expertise remains at the center.

Built for Stewardship

Every activity is designed to help you understand, strengthen, and responsibly grow your intellectual property — not simply produce more content.

Your intellectual work is worth protecting. Let's begin.

Working alongside a small community of experienced practitioners, you'll engage in guided reflection, practical mapping, and collaborative dialogue that transforms years of experience into a coherent body of intellectual property. You won't leave with another collection of templates. You'll leave with a stewardship strategy designed to help it evolve for years to come.
